

Boys & Girls Aid

Attachment Theory

for adoptive, foster & step families

This two-part training reviews Attachment Theory and will:

- Discuss adult attachment styles
- Build concrete skills in developing attachment for children adopted out of foster care
- Help participants to view behaviors through an attachment lens

PART ONE

April 12th, 6-8 pm

PART TWO

April 26th, 6-8 pm

Building attachment with a your current or future child is essential to stabilizing the family in the short or long-term. Successful parents benefit from understanding how the attachment dynamic functions in all relationships; especially the one they have with their children.

Training delivered by Leah Brookner, MSW, MA, ABD.

Location

Boys & Girls Aid
018 SW Boundary Court
Portland, OR 97239

Fees

$80 per couple
$50 per individual

Families working with Boys & Girls Aid

$60 per couple
$40 per individual

About Boys & Girls Aid

For 130 years, Boys & Girls Aid has improved the lives of children on a daily basis. Since 1885, the agency has worked to create innovative, high quality services that ensure a better future for youth in foster care.

SIGN UP!

To RSVP call 503-542-2301 or email training@boysandgirlsaid.org